Sir:

My telegram of the 8th instant directing you to return all orders received from New York City for one cent bronze pieces was sent after consultation with the Treasurer of the United States who stated that the Assistant Treasurer at New York could furnish the coins. Since that time the stock of these coins in the sub-Treasury has become very much reduced and the amount is only sufficient to supply a small amount of the demands for them. You will, therefore, receive orders from New York City and fill them in their proper order.

I think, under the circumstances, that you should notify the New York County bank that you will take their order and fill it in turn, as would have been done in case it had not been returned to them.

Very respectfully,

R. E. Preston

Acting Director of the Mint.
